

Partial List of Occult Powers

I. Physiological Group.

1. Voluntary stopping of the heart for brief periods.
2. Stopping of circulation in selected regions.
3. Various controls of and inducing of abnormal activities in the involuntary and vaso-motor systems.
4. Production of cataleptic rigidities.
5. Manifestation of abnormal strength beyond normal tensile and compressive strength of body members.
6. Piercing and cutting of body with prompt healing.
7. Taking internally of deadly poisons and broken glass without bad effects.

II. Physical Group.

1. More or less complete freeing of body from control of gravity.
2. Transportation of material objects to a distance.
3. Reproducing of destroyed objects by act of will.
4. Control of rain.
5. Causing of writing without mechanical control.
6. Precipitation of written and other forms on paper.
7. Causing of material objects to vanish and re-appear, including the operator's own physical body.
8. Precipitation of perfumes on objects such as handkerchiefs.
9. Causing the visible movement of objects without mechanical control.
10. Causing the rapid growth of plants with or without a seed.

III. Psychological Group.

1. Hypnotic phenomena.
 - a. Including power to induce experiences of short or long duration seemingly, while actually occupying little or no objective time.
2. Clairvoyance.
3. Clairaudience.
4. Telepathic communication, including precise dictation.
5. Power to control the course of dreams consciously.
6. Power to enter into and appear in the dream of another.
7. Power to coalesce one's consciousness with that of another so as to perceive through the organism of the latter.
8. Power to disjoin the parts of one's own consciousness so that he sees himself as a group of living beings.
9. Power of prevision of natural events.

IV. Subtle Occult.

1. Power to produce and project illusive forms either in the appearance of one's self or of other persons or creatures and to receive through this form impressions and to act.
2. Power to occupy bodies deserted by their original tenants.
3. Power to step out of one's own body.
4. Power to act temporarily through the body of another, including speaking
5. in the body of a child that has not yet learned to talk.
5. Power to produce instruments of subtle embodiment.
6. Power to invoke, control and direct multifarious subtle energies.
7. Power to guard against the invasion of psychic energies

V. Spiritual.

1. Power to release the real Man or the Adept at will.
2. Power to enter high Samadhi.
3. The genuine theurgic power of evoking high spiritual Beings.
4. Capacity to move in sidereal space while keeping the physical body animated by the lower mental principle.