

Below is a description of the plan and purpose of a manuscript which I have ready for publication. If a work of the type described would have a place in your publishing program I would like to submit the manuscript for your consideration.