

Quoted from Interview October 29, 1905

"The members of the 28 have been told that the Master who informed the body of Helena Blavatsky was the Hierophant of the Cosmic Order of the 28. The Initiates of that Order must at some time be in a position to hear and understand the directions given by that Entity without the assistance of an intermediary, or they cannot reach the highest point of development in that Order."

Instruction for 28 Aug. 1912.

"We cannot teach until we are teachers; we cannot shine until we are suns; we cannot be Masters until we have the Mastery. The Eternal incandescence of Spiritual Consciousness cannot illumine the mental thinking principle until a definite connection is established through so-called psychic faculties - really inner senses - as yet dormant in most people.

It is the function and purpose of the Order of the 28 to make this inner connection for those who are ready to receive and assimilate the forces transmitted."

"The accepted Neophyte has literally nothing to do with the requirements or commands of any other disciple or body of disciples, or with his own past. He has formed a definite contract with the Higher Self and his teacher, and to these alone he is answerable".

Temple Artisan April 1904 p 163

"Those members of the Order of the Seven who occupy certain positions in the hierarchal line to which I am attached, if able to keep in a faithful, devoted condition of mind; in other words, in a positive position to the negative one I must assume in contacting them,--- would enable me to transmit force and open methods of communication with them; but the instant one drops from the positive to the negative aspect, he or she breaks the wave motion, and the current can go no further than the point formerly held by him or her; so all who come after them in that particular wave, are cut off as well as they themselves."

From the Embodied Voice

"----I tell you again now, that a single man or woman; imbued with sufficient devotion and enthusiasm for the cause, a man or woman obedient to the behests of the Higher Self, and to the main details of the plan as outlined by us, and one with the power of organizing the right selection of subordinate helpers; the man fearless of all things save only his power of disobedience; that man or woman being/at one with the coming Avatar, will be at one with the Annunciator and with the power and glory of His Kingdom to be.

"I have said before, and I say again, to such a one I will I give directions and guidance, but he must be at one with my mouth-piece; he must be prepared to risk all if he would gain all."
