

Running Commentary Following Gertrude's Death

Part 14 of 53

Franklin Merrell-Wolff

November 30, 1978

Continuing with the record.

When I woke up from a very brief nap this afternoon—incidentally this is November 30—I felt an impingement of the state which I call “Gertrude-absent.” I got up and managed to get out of the state. I don't know why this should have happened during sleep. I was free from that condition all this forenoon while listening to the tape. This is simply put down as a fact for the record.
