

Last Word on Tape

Franklin Merrell-Wolff

December 7, 1984

Everything that I have said and that I now say is subject to correction in the light of a greater knowledge and understanding, either that which may be in the future attained by myself or by others. Nonetheless, I will affirm and deny as I now see the truth. But no one should accept it blindly, but only as it may appear to his intuition and understanding.

All right, let's get that . . .