

Pure Materialism.

Denies fact of immediate experience
that physical phenom.
is content of consciousness,
but is not consciousness.

To say that conscious energy is the same
as physical energy,
involves an obvious
petitio principii.

Automation

1. Causal relation only one way. Denies control of body by mind.

Involves the difficulty of the physical acting on mental.

Interaction

Denies conservation of energy.

Parallelism

Involves question of how things may be parallel and yet independent.

Physiology of Memory Delays

Goldstein -

Archives für

Psychiatrie vol 44

---

Ch 4, Titchener

What is suggestion?

Try exps. on people.

Last day, summary
of chapters of Psychology

Müller: Criticism
of Ash

"This Analyse
of course of memory
and ideas"

---

Ebbinghaus
in Psychology
Ref. between mind
and body.
(Conservation of Energy)

sensation } physiological volition } activity.

parallelism
interactionism
phantomism
epiphenomenalism

6:30-7:30